

MIKI MARSHALL, B.S.C. '06

Founder, Eris Select Media and Image Consulting

A native of Atlanta, Georgia, Miki Marshall is the founder of Eris Select Media and Image Consulting, a media and broadcasting coaching company that counts some of the biggest names in sports as clients. After a few short stints working in the music, film, and news industries, she has fulfilled many roles in live sports television production, winning multiple Emmy awards for her contributions.

Highly experienced in launching various television networks and studio shows, Marshall has created memorable moments working closely with Hall of Fame professional athletes while contributing to some of the most iconic sports television moments with various properties such as Inside the NBA, NBATV, ESPN, CBS Sports, and many other networks in sports and entertainment.

When Marshall isn't wrangling humans twice her size, she enjoys nights in watching horror movies, learning new skills, from designing graphics to trying new recipes, and practicing piano or one-foot spins on her roller skates.
