

Sandy Goldstein, B.B.A. '81, M.B.A. '84

Chair, University of Miami President's Council

Samuel H. (Sandy) Goldstein is the founder and chief executive officer of Capsicum Group, LLC, a Philadelphia-based technology and consulting firm specializing in digital forensics, electronic discovery and recovery, cybersecurity, and regulatory compliance. With offices in New York City, Fort Lauderdale, Dallas, and Los Angeles, Capsicum supports clients nationwide in complex investigations and litigation matters. Goldstein brings over 20 years of experience in technology-related fields and is a frequent speaker and writer on topics such as e-discovery, computer forensics, and emerging strategies in cybersecurity.

Before founding Capsicum, Goldstein served as senior vice president and chief information officer at Airgas Inc., the largest retail distributor of packaged gas and industrial goods in North America. He also spent 12 years as a consultant in public accounting, including leadership roles at KPMG.

A proud double alumnus of the University of Miami, Goldstein earned his B.B.A. in 1981 and M.B.A. in 1984. He currently serves as Chair of the University of Miami President's Council, is the former Chair of the Dean's Advisory Committee for the Patti and Allan Herbert Business School, and continues to serve on the school's Board of Overseers. He was instrumental in launching Miami Herbert's annual Business Plan Competition and previously chaired the Entrepreneurship Advisory Council.

Goldstein lives in Pennsylvania with his wife, Cindy Mae Goldstein, RN, a University of Miami alumna who earned her B.S. in Nursing in 1979. They are proud parents of three children, including Sean Goldstein, B.B.A. '12, M.B.A. '13, who serves as Vice President of Marketing and Business Development at Capsicum Group.
